NEWBERRY WINS SENATE SEAT BY FIVE VOTES

Senate Votes 46 to 41 to Allow Retention of Seat in That Body

NOT A PARTY VOTE

Nine Republicans and 32 Democrats Including Both Virginians Vote in Favor of Ousting Him

Washington Jan. 13.—By a majority of five votes, two of them furnished by Maryland Senators, the Senate declared last night that Truman H. Newberry, Republican, of Michigan, was entitled to a seat in that body.

On four successive roll calls, coming on slightly different substitute proposals and on the original resolution of the majority of the investigating committee, the vote for admission stood 46 to 41.

None of the amendments or substitutes proposed the seating of Henry Ford, the Democratic contestant, and the issue straight through was the title of Mr. Newberry to his seat.

Mr. Newberry, himself on the floor only once during the long battle—and then to speak in his own defense last Monday—telephoned his supporters at the Capitol last night after the result was determined that he regarded the result as a "complete vindication and an exoneration of myself and all concerned." He said:

My heart is filled with thankfulness that the three years and four months of persecution has ended in a complete vindication and an exoneration of myself and all concerned.

His announcement definitely answered statements made during the closing hours of debate that Mr. Newberry did not approve of the resolution in its final form, which condemned the use of excessive sums of money.

Nine Republicans and 32 Democrats voted consistently against the Michigan Senator. The nine Republicans who left the party lines were:

Borah, Idaho; Capper Kansas; Jones, Washington; La Follette, Wisconsin; Sutherland, West Virginia; Kenyon, Iowa; Norris, Nebraska; Ladd North Dakota, and Norbeck, South Dakota.

Senator Thomas E. Watson, Georgia, who had announced his intention to vote for Newberry was absent on all four rollcalls. He was not paired either for or against the Michigan Senator. After the first rollcall, Senator Curtis, the Republican whip, announced that Senator Watson was paired with Senator Norbeck. A moment later he withdrew this announcement and said that the Georgia Senator did not wish a pair and Mr. Norbeck was at liberty to vote.

There were two other absentees—Hiram Johnson, of California and Mr. Newberry himself.

Six Senators were paired, as follows: Stanley, of Kentucky, against Dupont, Delaware for; Kendrick Wyoming, against, with Crow, Pennsylvania, for; Reed Missouri, against, with Moses, New Hampshire, for. Thus the entire Senate membership was accounted for.

Senator Pepper, of Pennsylvania, who has just taken his seat and refused to say until the last moment how he would vote finally was aligned in the voting with the Newberry forces.

Although the Senate voted to seat Mr. Newberry, the Spencer resolution was modified on motion of Senator Willis, Republican, of Ohio.

The Willis amendment declared Mr. Newberry entitled to his seat, but at the same time asserted that the expenditure of such large sums as $195,000 in a Senatorial campaign was contrary to public policy and harmful to the dignity of the Senate. This amendment, too was adopted by a vote of 46 to 41, the Republican regulars supporting it and the Democrats and nine Republicans recalcitrants voting against.

TO SPEAK SUNDAY

Representative Barkley of Kentucky Will Address First of Series of Men's Meetings Sunday

Promptly at three P. M. Sunday, in the auditorium of the Westminster Building, (upstairs), the first of a series of Sunday afternoon men's meetings, will be opened. The speaker will be Judge A. W. All ministers are asked to make this announcement at the Sunday morning services, and to co-operate in these services each week.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Washington Jan. 13.—Despite the fact that he admitted that he and his friends had spent nearly two hundred thousand dollars in his election in Michigan against Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer, the Senate of the United States voted that he was duly elevated to that body. As a matter of fact, some of the Republican Senators who voted against Newberry did not recall the fact that incidentally and otherwise various organizations which they sponsored contributed large sums of money to secure either their re-election or defeat of the candidates whom they opposed. Notably is the case of Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, who although prancing around the Senate as a "holier than thou" Senator, it is well known that he countenanced hundreds of thousands of dollars furnished by German propagandists to defeat his colleague, Senator Lenroot for reelection. But Senator La Follette paid no attention to this matter in his denunciation of the Senator from Michigan. It is too bad that some Senator wise to the situation in Wisconsin did not ask Senator La Follette how much of his knowledge or without his knowledge had been furnished and expended in the State of Wisconsin to defeat Senator Lenroot. The friends of Senator Newberry overlooked a bet when they did not call attention to such "contributions" by those Senators who were most violent in their denunciation of campaign funds.

News of the resignation of Premier Briand and his Cabinet, while not a surprise to the French delegation to the arms conference was received by them with a distinct feeling of disquietude as to the possible effect both the decisions of the arms conference and the projected conference on economic questions at Cannes.

It is possible that a straw ministry may be set up for the time being to permit Briand to remarshal his forces and again control with a sufficient working majority to enable him to carry out his policies. Members of the French delegation in Washington doubt that a ministry can be formed to last more than a few days that does not have the support of the Briand element which is heavily backed by Sarraut who controls a large block of votes in the Chamber of Deputies.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover, who is regarded as the logical selection by the President as the American member of the Genoa conference, is said to have definite ideas about the economic situation in Europe and to believe that four steps are necessary to cure Europe's economic ills. These steps are:

1. The balancing of budgets by the various continental governments:
2. The reconstruction and reformation of national currencies, involving the stoppage of the printing presses turning out paper money;
3. The levying of increased taxs; and
4. Recognition of the necessary connction between the economic recovery of Europe generally with the economic recovery of Germany.

Major General Enoch H. Crowder who was sent to Cuba just a year ago as the special representative of President Wilson left that country today and is expected in Washington on Saturday according to an announcement made at the State Department today.

General Crowder has been making a careful investigation of economic and political conditions in the island and will be ready to lay the result of his observations before President Harding and officials of the Department of State the minute he reaches Washington.

When General Crowder first landed in Cuba, his visit was hailed as a distinct enemy to the island to the south of us. He was regarded as an emissary whose sole duty was to bring about chaos rather than order out of the disentagled state of affairs both financially and politically, that existed up to the time of his arrival there. But the sober element of Cubans, those who were acquainted with the work performed by the General in previous years, were willing to accept his good offices. As a consequence, Cuba today, due to his work and worth, is on a sound financial and political basis and the natives are perfectly satisfied with his suggestions and recommendations. Crowder today is a friend of Cuba and the Cubans realize this from every standpoint.

THRIFT WEEK TO BE OBSERVED JANUARY 17-23

Each Day of Week Designated In Connection With Observance

SOME NOVEL PLANS

Several Ministers to Preach Thrift Sermons—Y. M. C. A., to Have Shop Talks During Week

Alexandria is to observe National Thrift Week which begins Tuesday, January 17, Benjamin Franklin's birthday, and continues to January 23. Last year the week was observed here for the first time under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and splendid reports have resulted from the week's program.

Each day of the week is a special one as follows: Tuesday, January 17, Thrift Day—Benjamin Franklin's birthday; Wednesday, January 18, Budget Day; Thursday, January 19, Life Insurance Day; Friday, January 20, Own Your Home Day; Saturday, January 21, Pay Your Bills Promptly Day; Sunday, January 22, Share With Others Day; Monday, January, 23, Make A Will Day.

Benjamin Franklin has been chosen Patron Saint of Thrift Week, because of his extremely practical manner of advocating thrifty habits. The local Association hopes to have as many local institutions as possible observe the day by adopting thrift habits and endorsing the program before students, members of the family and employes.

One local department store has already begun a club for systematic saving among its employes and they are said to be very enthusiastic over the response. It is hoped that the program will be observed in the schools, as last year, and speakers will talk before the high school on various phases of the week.

At a meeting of the Retail Credit Men's Association at the Chember of Commerce, Wednesday evening it was decided to observe the week and emphasize especially the "Pay Your Bills Promptly" day, which is Saturday, Jan. 21. In some cities it has been announced that no life insurance can be purchased January 19, as the agents will preach insurance that day instead of selling it.

The Y. M. C. A. announces that several of the ministers of the city will preach "thrift" sermons Sunday, January 22, which is "thrift Sunday." Dr. Percy Foster Hall, St. Pauls'; Dr. E. B. Jackson, First Baptist; Rev. O. P. Lloyd, Second Baptist; Dr. John Lee Allison, Second Presbyterian; Dr. E. V. Register, M. E. South, and Rev. Edgar Carpenter, of Grace, are among those that will deliver special sermons emphasizing the importance of the day.

Shop meeting will be held during the week and several shops and factories will hear special talks on various phases of the program. Several of the ministers will discuss "Sharing With Others," while Glenn L. Justice will discuss "Life Insurance," and Attorney H. Noel Garner "Why Make a Will." Secretary Wallace, of the "Y" states that he could furnish many more audiences if it were possible to secure the speakers.

Secretary Wallace will discontinue the health talks being given in the shops and will discuss instead, "The Family Budget," for the week. He states that very keen interest is shown by the men of the shops in all of the subjects of the week, many of them asking questions regarding various phases of it. The week, originated by the Y. M. C. A. several years ago, has now become a national institution of which the Association is justly proud.

COUNTY BOARD MUST PAY FOR NON-RESIDENTS

Opinion Given City School Board by Attorney H. W. Smith

LOCAL BOARD'S TERMS

Ownership of Property and Payment of Taxes Does Not Give Non-Residents School Privelege

The question of whether or not a child residing in the adjoining county, whose parents or guardian reside in such adjoining county but owns and pays taxes on property in this city, may send such child to the public schools without obligation upon the school board of such county to pay the child's tuition has just been answered in a letter to the school board by Commonwealth's attorney Howard W. Smith, submitted to the board through Capt. W. H. Sweeney, superintendent of schools. His opinion follows:

1.—That the ownership of property and the payment of taxes in the city of Alexandria has no bearing upon the rights of residents of other counties to send their children to the public schools of this city, and therefore,

2.—That non-resident children of non-resident parents should be received in the public schools of this city only upon proper provision being made by the school board of their respective counties for the payment of their tuition.

This question is governed by section 719 and 720 of the code of Virginia of 1919, the provisions of which, so far as revolent, are as follows:

Section 719, "And the State Board of Education shall have power and it shall be its duty to make regulations whereby the children of one district may attend school in an adjoining district out of the county, or an adjoining city."

Section 720, "Any person domiciled in this state who is a resident of any school district of the state may send his children to any public free school in any other school district of the state upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the school board of said last mentioned school district, and provided further that the children whose parents or guardians do not reside in the city shall be received into the public schools of such city upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the school board thereof subject to an appeal to the state board of education," etc.

Under these sections it would seem that the school board should by resolution prescribe the terms and conditions under which non-resident pupils will be received and such resolutions should be transmitted to the superintendent of schools such other county as desires to send pupils to the schools of the city. If the conditions are not complied with such children should not be permitted to enter the public school of the city.

If the school authorities of the adjoining counties think the conditions prescribed are not reasonable they have the right to appeal to the state board of education.

TO SELL CAMP HUMPHREYS

Resolution Introduced in House of Representatives

Proposition to Sell Portion of Camp Is Part of Economy Move

A bill was introduced in the House of Representatives Tuesday, empowering the Secrtary of War to—

"sell such portion of the land or interest therein acquired by the United States of America as a site for Camp Humphreys, Virginia, as he may determine is no longer required for military purposes."

This is a matter of vital importance to Alexandria. The reservation at Camp Humphreys comprises some 6 400 acres. It is one of the permanent camps, it houses the Engineer School of the United States Army, which is the last word in technical instruction. It is the home of various, and, in fact, all the highly specialized units of the Corps of Engineers of the Army. A new unit of the Engineers is even now being formed, to consist of topographers surveyors and mapmakers. Such units as this constitute the brains of the army, they "show them where to go."

Camp Humphreys is the only large permanent camp in the vicinity of Washington. It has become an Alexandria instiution, and to reduce its area would be in the nature of a calamity.

IN CONGRESS YESTERDAY

SENATE

Truman H. Newberry, who defeated Henry Ford for the Michigan Senatorship in 1918 and who was charged with corruption, $200,000 having been spent on the election, was allowed to retain his seat in the Senate, a resolution to oust him being defeated 46 to 41. Several Democratic resolutions declaring the seat vacant and Newberry "unfit" were defeated by the same score before the final vote was taken. Senator Willis, of Ohio, Republican, who had been lined up with the Newberry opponents, voted for him.

H. T. Tate, of Morristown, Tenn., was nominated deputy assistant treasurer of the United States, and a number of army and navy and postmastership appointments were confirmed.

The District committee closed its hearings on the three bills providing suffrage for the District of Columbia.

The committee which has been investigating the charges of Senator Watson, of Georgia, that American soldiers were shot without court martial or trial in France expects to summons General Pershing to explain the method of executing prisoners in the war.

The committee on public lands began consideration of a resolution by Senator Smoot proposing to convert 200,000 acres of timber land in Arizona into a national forest.

A series of amendments to the Fordney tariff bill, providing an alternative plan of the American valuation basis of assessing import duties, was proposed by Senator Smoot.

THE HOUSE

No business was transacted, the members of the House attending the Senate debate on the question of ousting Senator Newberry and thereby destroying the House morale.

PLANS FOR LOAN EXHIBIT

Exhibits to be Arranged in Period Groups in Chronological Order

Large Number of Loans Already Secured—Many More Promised—Partial List

The rapidly maturing plans for Alexandria's Loan Exhibit give promise of an event which will surpass any previous local effort both in scope and brilliance. Christ Church Parish Hall is admirably adapted to such an exhibit. The main room will accommodate a large number of visitors and the exhibits will be arranged in the smaller rooms adjacent. Mrs. Minnigerode Andrews will superintend the placing of the various exhibits which will be arranged according to periods. The period groups will be Colonial, Revolutionary, War of 1812, Mexican War, Spanish-American War and World War. The entrances to the smaller rooms wil be roped off and the exhibits paced just inside. Mrs. Wm. J. Boothe, is arranging for a number of show cases, in which the smaller articles can be placed to best advantage. Most adequate protection will be given the exhibits, by day and night. During the hours when the hall is open to the public, a committee of ladies will be on duty, to explain the history of the groups and individual articles.

Mrs. Gardner L. Boothe is in charge of the tea table for the afternoon hours.

At night, cake, ice cream and candy will be on sale. Mrs. Thomas W. Robinson is in charge of the Colonial costumes for the group of younger girls who will serve.

Those interested in the Exhibit are requested to bring or send the articles to be placed, on Tuesday morning Jan. 24th, as early as possible after ten o'clock. Committees will be on hand to receive the exhibits but the lenders are requested to tag each article with name of the person lending and a brief history of the article, if it has particular significance. Persons having suitable articles to lend are asked to notify Mrs Alberta Regester Duffey, either by mail or phone, so that a definite idea can be had by the Committee of the number of kinds of exhibits, and also that a complete list may be published in the Gazette from time to time. It is exceedingly interesting not only to the committees in charge but to the citizens of Alexandria as well to know of the valuable and interesting things in local homes.

The following is a partial list of exhibits of which the committee has already had notice:

Six Paisley shawls, lent by Mrs. Minnigerode Andrews.

White satin pillow slip, more than 150 years old, used at Pascal services, lent by Mrs. R. P. Whitestone.

Two mahogany chairs, china, silver coaster, silver knives, forks and prons of rare workmanship, lent by Mrs. Richard Gibson.

Woven quilt, silver cup, lent by Mrs. C. E. Nicol.

Patchwork quilt, lent by Mrs. R. E. Acton.

Letter from Thomas Jefferson, lent by Mrs Julian T. Burke.

Chippendale gaming table, table and inkwell once property of Thomas Jefferson, lent by Mrs. Frederick P. Russell.

Similar articles, portraits, spinning wheels, miniatures, glass, furniture or any other interesting antiques will add to the interest and charm of the collection and Alexandrians are urged to join with this group of women in exhibiting the treasures of the city's homes. The Exhibit will close on the evening of Thursday, January 26th, and the various articles returned to their homes on Friday morning.

FRENCH CRISIS MAY AFFECT CONFERENCE

Possibility is Recognized That Government May Upset Work

U. S. OPTIMISTIC

Delegates Think Briand's Resignation Will Not Prevent Genoa Meeting —U. S. to be Represented.

Washington, Jan. 12.—News of the sudden resignation of Aristide Briand as Premier of France and the probably succession of former President Raymond Poincare to that post came as a shock to delegates to the Arms Limitation Conference and brought foreboding as to the reaction the event might have on the Conference itself.

Although the leaders were careful to express themselves only optimistically, if at all, the possibility was recognized that the French crisis might upset a good deal of the work, besides throwing all Europe again into the turmoil from which she seemed about to emerge.

A militaristic French Government, it was held in some quarters, might show its antagonism to Great Britain by rejecting the treaties to which both nations are party: This feeling was not a general one, and on behalf of the American delegation, it was stated that no reason was apparent for any nullification of the Conference's work.

M. Briand's resignation was the result of dissatisfaction with his work at Cannes, and followed a speech in the Chamber of Deputies in which he plainly showed his resentment.

At Cannes a sensation was caused when the news reached the Supreme Council, whose meeting virtually came to a halt to take stock of the situation. It was stated, however, that it will probably not prevent the Genoa conference, and it was stated that Great Britain is still ready to stand by her security pact with France if the new Government is agreeable.

The United States has not yet signified her intention of being represented at Genoa, but it is taken for granted that she will be, and Secretary of Commerce Hoover is regarded as the most likely man to head the delegation.

In the Arms Conference itself there was little progress. The Japanese and Chinese continued their Shantung conversations, and there was agreement on minor points. The Naval Committee continued work on the treaty, and an effort was made to reach an agreement as to Pacific island fortifications.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The resignation of Aristide Briand as Premier of France caused anxiety and apprehension today in Washington, which was not concealed by reassuring comments of leaders in the Conference, American and others.

NEW BIBLE CLASS

Members of Second Baptist Sunday School Organize New Class at Banquet Last Night

Another Men's Bible Class came into existence last night when about eighty men gathered at the Second Baptist Church to organize. The meeting was called to order by the pastor, Rev. Owen P. Lloyd, and officers for the year were elected as follows: Prsident, James A. Hulfish; vice-president Owen L. Keys; teacher, T. L. Noell; assistant teacher, C. M. Hoaston; secretary, Charles F. Coffey; assistant secretary, M. E. Lovelace; treasurer, J. W. Mason.

After the organization was completed the assembly was addressed by the Rev. Robert Browne, pastor of the Methodise Protestant Church. Following this address the entire body repaired to the Sunday School room where the ladies of the church had prepared a sumptuous banquet. At the table Mr. Noell acted as toastmaster and several toasts were responded to. During the course of the banquet short addresses were made by Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson, pastor of the First Baptist Church; Mr. Dunbar, of North Carolina, and Rev. O. P. Lloyd. The Walt Masonized "Greater Alexandria" was read by the author, but instead of advocating a greater Alexandria it was altered so that it read a "Greater Second Baptist." There were also solos by Mrs. Jetty and Mr. Cornell.

Forty-seven of those present became members of the class and it is expected that many more will join them in the near future. The pastor feels assured of a fine class.

VIRGINIA NEWS PARAGRAPHED

Salem—Information has been received by cable from Monrovia, Liberia, Africa, that typhoid fever was the cause of the death of Dr. Charles L. Brown, mission secretary of the Lutheran Board of Missions who died there December 5. This is the first message that has come through since Mrs. Brown was notified of her husband's death. As it is impossible to transport the remains because of the distance in the interior, the body was buried 'neath the tropical sod of the jungle where he died. Memorial services in memory of the departed missionary whose name has been added to the list of Christian martyrs, were held Sunday in the First Lutheran Church of Baltimore.

Bristol,—Fire which broke out about 10 o'clock last night, caused heavy damages to the building, and stock of the Kingsport Stores, Inc. of Kingsport, according to news received here. The blaze is thought to have started from a furnace flue. The damage is covered by insurance, it was announed by W. W. Hufford, manager of the store. Unofficial estimates of people who were at the fire place the loss at about $100,000.

Richmond—Appropriations recommended by Governor Davis in the budget submitted to the opening session of the Virginia general assembly today total $23,835,174.30 out of an available revenue of approximately $24,000,000, or less by 12 million dollars than was requested by the various departments and institutions of the state. These appropriations for the next two years, it is estimated, will leave a balance in the state treasury as of March 1, 1924, of $120,332.01.

Rustburg—This was the prosecution's big day in the trial of R. T. Shields and Lonnie Moran, charged with the murder of W. L. (Pat) Johnson. Marcellus Davis, colored, testified that he was an eye witness to the killing, which occurred at Shields' still near Six Mile Bridge, about 10 o'clock on the morning of November 7 1920. He stated that during a heated argument, Moran struck Johnson with a club and Shields shot him with a revolver.

Norfolk—Delegates from the various Catholic parishes of Virginia and West Virginia met in Richmond Sunday and formed the first Diocesan Union or state body of Virginia. About 500 attended the meeting and various ceremonies. Rev. Henry A. Norfolk was chosn for the next convention which will be held in September, George E. Holmes, president of the Sacred Heart Society, was chosen president of the first convention.

Bristol—Reports from Abingdon say that so far as could be learned only three elk were slain during the last week in December when the animals on the government land in the Clinch Mountains north of Abingdon were permitted with an orden issued by county officials. It is thought that there are about 12 or 15 head of elk in that section of the mountains. They were shipped here from the west several years ago by the government and were set free on the government timber reserve. They have not multiplied, it is said, but are as wild as they were in the forests of the west. The animals destroyed considerable corn for the farmers last year and this winter it permissable to kill them during the last week of December.

Petersburg—Announcement was made here Monday afternoon by J. T. Holmes, local manager of a real estate and development company, who has just returned from Washington that the sale at auction of buildings at Camp Lee will take place February 6.

Newport News—How much thieves secured when they rifled the strong box of the Trinity Methodist Church will never be known for the ages of the members of the organization are involved. The mite box received, from time to time, pennies to the number of the age of the donor and was locked in a closet. This is the third church robbery here in the past month.

Richmond—Sergeant Henry S. Garrett, 73 years old, one of the soldiers who assisted Stonewall Jackson to reach his tent the night he was wounded, died Saturday, December 31, at his home in White Stone, Va. He joined the Confederate forces at the age of 16 as a member of the Forty-seventh Regiment. He was wounde sevral times during the war and twice at the battle of Gettysburg. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rosa Lee Garrett, and five sons, Derring, Harry, John, Walker and Earl Garrett.

Roanoke—In an effort to reduce the pay roll $10,000 for the month of January, 52 employees at the West End shops of the Norfolk and Western Railroad employed in the Radford division are being cut off, it was learned Monday at the West Roanoke shops. The appropriation for the Radford division for January was $170,000 or $10,000 less for the month than was expected and the cut off was necessary to meet the deficit.

$200,000 Is Her Bill For Spurned Love

CHICAGO—Charging breach of promise, Miss Mary Lago, former Follies beauty, has filed suit against Gordon C. Thorne, millionaire, of this city for $100,000. She seeks a similar amount from his mother, Mrs. William Camp, whom she charges with slander. Miss Lago, just from the hospital after her second attempt at suicide for love of Thorne, based the suit on Thorne's statement that he will not wed her out of respect for the wishes of his mother. Under the Illinois laws he would be unable to marry any one until next June, a year from the time he was divorced by Mrs. Virginia Milner Thorne, society beauty. In her suit against Mrs. Camp she charges she was called a "vampire" and accused of "dragging Thorne down, down, down." Miss Lygo's association with Thorne became known last Spring when she slashed her wrists with a razor on learning that he had a dinner engagement with another girl. Shortly afterward he was divorced and charged with drunkenness. He is now in Florida.

FOR GREATER ALEXANDRIA

Mrs. W. J. Morton President of Women Voters Gives Views

Strongly Advocates Teaching of Bible In Public Schools as Literature —Domestic Science Important

Mrs. William J. Morton, President of the League of Women Voters, advocates a better school system in the interest of a Greater Alexandria. She tells the Gazette reporter that:

"Alexandria Schools should rank the very highest in the State, as it was in this old town through the influence and contributions of George Washington, that the first school building was erected in America. The close proximity to Washington city with its public libraries and schools of art and its beautiful buildings exemplifying the very best that is in architecture The teachers could carry their classes over at intervals giving them the benefit of these instructive and interesting things.

"First of all, Alexandria Schools need proper housing facilities. No teacher should teach more than 25 children at the very most. Children feel the nervous strain that is placed upon the teacher which reacts very detrimentally upon them.

"I would also advocate the honor system in the school room—put the child on his or her honor, thereby teaching them to do the right thing Inspire them to feel that you expect him or her to measure up to that confidence, and as a rule they will come up to the mark. No child should be punished for the sins of omission and the disobedience of any other child; by so doing the high standard that they may set for themselves will be broken down, if some indifferent little urchin with no ambition choses to violate the rules and the whole room is punished for it.

"I think it a shame that our children should be taught everything in the schools and be deprived of the greatest thing which is the English version of the Bible. I was reading last night from the pen of a professor of Harvard, who said that, "Western Civilization is founded upon the Bible."

He also said, "I thoroughly believe in university education for both men and women: but I believe a knowledge of the Bible without a college course is more valuable than a college course without the Bible." Could there be any stronger assertion than this? I advocate most strongly that the Bible as literature be taught in our schools.

"Domestic science and music are most essential also, for no home is quite complete without music, when with it home seems a little bit of Heaven The poet says that man can not live without cooks; certain it is that a well regulated kitchen may help to oust the awful scourge of divorce which seems to bask unmolested in Alexandria to a very alarming extent.

"Make the home what it ought to be through education and Christian morals and we will have future citizens in our land who will want peace and happiness without greed and without hatred."

DAVIS WANTS DRY OFFICERS

Desires to Amend Constitution to Protest Prohibition Laws of State

In Message to Assembly Governor Scourges "Politically Drys" Yet "Personally Wets"

Richmond, Jan. 11.—Scourging "hypocrites" and "law evaders," who are flaunting their defiance of the prohibition laws of state and nation, Governor Westmoreland Davis created a profound sensation today by proposing, in his parting message to the general assembly, a constitutional amendment which would bar from office those who are "politically dry" and "personally wet."

That section of the governor's message dealing with prohibition was pronounced an unadorned picture of existing conditions. As a corrective measure, the executive urged the legislature to provide for an amendment to the constitution requiring such aspirant for any public office to swear that he has not violated the liquor laws and will not knowingly do so.

"I am not giving you a moral lecture," Governor Davis told members of the general assembly, "I am endeavoring to save Virginia from an impending degeneracy caused by hypocrisy and law evasion."

Simultaneous with the governor's attack Delegates Wilbur Hall, of Loudoun, and Mayo Brown, of Lynchburg, introduced a joint resolution providing for an amendment to the constitution such as recommended by his excellency.

The section of the governor's message relative to the question of prohibition enforcement follows:

"Whatsoever the cost we must have the laws of the land enforced. A failure to do this is a surrender of order to disorder and is productive of chaotic conditions in the administration of law and justice. The laws are enforced in Virginia as well as they are enforced in other states, but that is not enough. The existence of statutes and the imposing of the jail terms do not alone mean law enforcement: there must be a healthy public opinion demanding it. Men and women are easily influenced by "leadership" and until education develones us fully, we are essentially emotional, and giving to mass action.

We are all alike affected by example rather than by precept, especially is this the case with our youth—the hope of the country. As has been happily said by a distinguished authority upon prohibition law enforcement at the meeting of the national law enforcement convention held at Washington, D. C., December 6, 1921: 'We must legislate and prosecute, and drastically punish, but principally we must educate, and practice what we preach.' It is therefore the duty of every citizen to aid in prohibition law enforcement. It should not be said—and it has been truthfully said—that as long as 'high-brows' will furnish it. I am not giving a moral lecture, I am endeavoring to save Virginia from an impending degeneracy caused by hypocricy and law evasion.

NEW ARMY UNIT IS BEING FORMED

Now Organizing at Camp Humphreys—Topographers—Surveyors

A. E. F. Men Remember "Kirby's Circus and Its Work in France

"What outfit were you with," asks one ex-soldier, and the other replies: "Oh, I was with the A. E. F. Circus," and you have wondered what we were doing with a circus in France. "Kirby's Circus" as it was jestingly called in honor of its Commanding Officer, was known technically as the "Mobile Topographical Unit." This organization revolutionized war map printing on the western front and proved to be a very important factor in the operations of the American Army.

In modern warfare thousands of maps are required of the area being fought over, for the Artillery, for the Engineers, for the Infantry; in fact for all areas, and these maps must be produced at once and in large volume. The Americans decided to operate mobile reproduction plants with the Army for this work. The British and French said it could not be done and claimed that only stationary plants could be used for map printing However, at Vaux in the Chateau Thierry Sector when the Americans were given a French map at 8:30 a. m. and at 2:30 the next morning 1,200 maps in two colors were in the hands of the fighting units.

The British and French eventually acquired for their use, two-thirds of the American equipment.

Recognizing the importance of the Mobile reproduction train, both in war and peace, the War Department has organized the 17th Engineers (Surveyors and map reproducers). Two companies will be formed at once, one a Surveying Company—the other the Map Reproduction and Printing Company. The Surveying Company will be equipped with light weight high speed trucks to transport surveying parties and all the various instruments used in surveying. The Reproduction Company will have 18 trucks on which is mounted the Printing and Reproduction Plant.

The wise and gentle Army mule so well known to men of the American Army is not known in this organization, as it is completely motorized.

For men of grammar or high school education who desire to take up surveying and mapping or any one of the many trades connected with map reproduction such as Drafting, Lithography, Photography, Printing, Engraving. Operation of Linotype machine, Kelly and flat presses. An excellent opportunity is offered.

Men of mechanical and electrical experience. Clerks, cooks and supply men are needed, but the greatest opportunity is presented to serious young men who desire to learn a well paying vocation.

Any one desiring further information or who desire to join this organization should communicate with the Commanding Officer. 17th Engineers, at Camp A. A. Humphreys, Va.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND LOOSENS TEETH

The Very Next Dose of This Treacherous Drug May Start Trouble

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

IMPORTANT TO ALEXANDRIA

The Gazette is indebted to Hon. R. Walton Moore, our representative in Congress for a copy of a most interesting report of the National Commission of Fine Arts, being the ninth report of that body, and just issued from the Government Printing Office.

The report is transmitted by President Harding to the Senate and House, with an appreciative letter on the very important work being accomplished by the Commission.

There are two items treated of by the Commission that are of vital interest to Alexandria. A Memorial Bridge across the Potomac, involving the necessary beautifying of the approach to the Capital from this city, and an ornate highway from Mount Vernon to Washington via Alexandria.

That both of these magnificent projects will materialize in the future there can be no doubt, since the lack of them is a national disgrace. The Gazette is sure that our Chamber of Commerce will assist our congressman in this matter when that assistance becomes opportune, and is equally sure that the latter will exercise his usual vigilance in looking after the interests of this city in Congress.

The edition of this valuable report is limited, and we wish to thank Mr. Moore for parting with his only copy to the Gazette.

We print today those portions of the pamphlet which treat of the Memorial Bridge and the Mt. Vernon Highway and suggest their careful reading by our citizens.

REDUCED GAS RATES

The Gazette contained a very interesting interview with Hon. Harry R. Burke, president of the Common Council, in its issue of the eleventh instant. We are glad to note that an ordinance has been introduced, lowering the rate on gas twenty cents per thousand feet. This ordinance is now probably in committee, and, we sincerely hope, will not need heroic treatment to prevent its untimely decease.

We dislike to differ with Mr. Burke, as we have sincere respect for his ability, and genuine belief in his public spirit; but we may be permitted to query if the present users of gas should be burdened with the excessive rate of $1.80 per thousand feet, in order that the blunders and neglect and ignorance of previous administrations may in some measure be obviated?

The Auditor's Annual Statement of the Finances of the City of Alexandria is before us. On page 39 we find the report of the Committee on Light. There are eleven pages devoted to the City Gas Plant, and after a careful reading of them, we are almost inclined to suggest that there should be a Committee on More Light!

On page 42, we find the value of the Gas Works as appraised by the city, to be $250,000; right under this item is placed the value of the Gas Works, as shown by cost of construction, amounting to $325,252.45. On page 51, we find the Gas Works listed among the assets of the City of Alexandria, as $400,000.

On page 46, we note that the total amount of gas made during the fiscal year ending May 31, 1921, both coal and water, is given as 80,954,000 cubic feet. The amount sold to consumers during the same year was 47,421,000 cubic feet, and the amount used by the City was 1,874,100 cubic feet; leaving 31,658,900 cubic feet or 39.1 per cent of the total amount manufactured, as unaccounted for! Ordinarily a manufacturer who lost forty per cent of his product without knowing even where it went, would be a fit subject for an asylum for the feeble-minded. But the Gazette makes no criticism, since this may be among the unfathomable mysteries of city gas plants.

For a long time there has been a general dissatisfaction with the exorbitant gas rates in Alexandria. We have commented on it more than once in these columns, and can only hope that a continual dripping may finally wear away the stone.

THE MEMORIAL BRIDGE

Daniel Webster says that Andrew Jackson proposed to span the Potomac with "arches of ever-enduring granite, symbolical of the firmly established union of the North and the South." In Webster's day the wooden structure known as Long Bridge was the main passage across the river, and so it continued until after the plan of 1901 was published. It was used by both railroads and vehicles, and for years the decrepit structure was kept from being carried down sream by piles of stone dumped into the river from time to time until they came to form a dam. In 1889 the ice gorge thus created put the Mall under several feet of water, from which the Peace Monument arose like a beacon.

The McMillan Act for the elimination of grade crossings in the District of Columbia provided for the construction of two bridges, one for steam railroads and the other for vehicles. The railroads were facing he expenditure of ten millions—a large sum in those days—and the District was piling up deficits instead of being the opulent partner it has now become. Hence the two brutal bridges. The Highway Bridge connects Potomac Park with a little race track, with marshes lately used as the city dump and with Agricultural Department barns, so designed and constructed as to thrust ugliness upon one's attention with all the insistence of a spoiled child at table. Through this variegated area a narrow, tortuous, dangerous road winds is uncertain way to Arlington National Cemetery. The bodies of the Nation's dead take this path to their last resting place. Over the same road distinguished visitors from other nations carry wreaths to place upon our national shrine at Mount Vernon.

The bridge now being constructed between Georgetown and Rosslyn will relieve traffic on the Highway Bridge; but both bridges will be primarily utilitarian as to both traffic and design. Meantime Andrew Jackson's idea of a memorial bridge has not died. Thirty-five years ago the report called for a bridge to cost $650,000; in five years the project grew to a viaduct a mile in length, to cost three and a half millions. In 1900 a competition resulted in plans for a bridge to cost five million. None of these ambitious projects got beyond the report stage.

The plan of 1901 came to change the entire conception of the Memorial Bridge. Instead of a long, high elaborate, ornate, and even grandiose structure, the plan calls for a simple, broad, low bridge beginning at the Lincoln Memorial and crossing to Analostan Island where a concourse suited to memorial treatment is to be created.

By dredging, a large area of land adjacent to the Arlington Farms has been created. This area should be developed as part of the park system of the District. The private ownership in Analostan Island should be determined and purchased. Such ownership is a threat and a menace. A proposition before the District Commissioners is to place on Analostan Island a gas holder 212 feet in height when inflated. The gas holder is the most brutally ugly structure devised by man. It is more blatant than a power house, a water tank, or an ill-designed and smoking chimney.

Congress has authorized the expenditure of $25,000 to secure plans for a memorial bridge, and some day the project will be realized. Its realization should carry along with it the cleaning up of all the approaches to Arlington and Fort Myer and the addition to the park system of the reclimed areas adjacent to the Virginia shore of the Potomac.

MOUNT VERNON ROAD

"The great desirability of connecting Mount Vernon with the Capital by an agreeable and dignified approach was recognized by Congress in 1889," says the Senate Report. "Not only is such a boulevard desirable on account of the historic associations of Mount Vernon but also the driveway itself would present such a series of beautiful views of broad portions of the Potomac valley as would give it a priceless recreative value for the future population of the District in in addition to its sentimental value as linking the Nation's capital with the home of its founder."

The desirability of a boulevard to Mount Vernon has become greater with the growth of sentiment among the American people, while the necessity of an adequate road has been emphasized by the development of Belvoir, the former sat of Lord Fairfax, into Camp Humphreys as the training station of the Corps of Engineers. It is greatly to be regretted that the occasion of the construction of a durable roadway to Camp Humphreys was not taken advantage of to force the dedication of lands sufficient to create such a boulevard. This project should be taken up and pushed to completion.

TARIFF RELIEF TO BE ASKED

Manufacturers to Meet in Washington and Present Demands to Congress

New York, Jan. 10.—Believing that immediate passage of a tariff bill of one form or another is most urgent to relieve the nation's manufacturers of their present anxiety and to bring about a stabilization of world business, the National Association of Manufacturers will hold a special convention in Washington, at the Willard Hotel, on January 30 and 31.

The manufacturers believe that Congressional delay over tariff is retarding the restoration of business in many lines.

The fundamental topic of discussion will be the American Valuation Plan, around which so much of the fight over the tariff bill now centers. In urging quick action by Congress the manufacturers are asking only that the imposition of all ad valorem duties be upon the basis of the American values instead of upon foreign values as is the practice today. They are seeking no participation in the making of the tariff schedules or rates, or in the framing of the bill.

The National Association of Manufacturers will go to Washington with a large majoriity backing of the manufacturers of the country, as shown in a recent referendum taken throughout the nation and just completed. The vote which was taken among something like 6,0000 manufacturers, who employ nearly three million persons, shows them to be 77.7 per cent in favor of the American Valuation Plan, 20.7 per cent opposed to it; while 1.6 per cent of the ballots cast were defective. The vote represents a total of 2,366,000 employes on the side of American Valuation and a total of 621 000 on the side opposed.

The referendum was the result of a request made recently by business men asking the association to sense the feeling of general business men and manufacturers on the subject. The association called a meeting on November 17, which was attended by more than one hundred and fifty delegates from manufacturing concerns and industrial organization throughout the country. This general meeting passed resolutions asking the National Association of Manufacturers to call the special convention which is to be held this month and the referendum was taken before the call was sent out.

Manufacturers representing organizations from every part of the country; representatives from state manufacturing associations; and individual manufacturers with no organization affiliations will be called into the discussion to impress upon Congress the great urgency for action, so that confusion may be eliminated and the manufacturers know where they stand.

At present, with the tariff bill in a state of flux, the manufacturers' unrest is felt directly or indirectly throughout all avenues of business.

John E. Edgerton, president of the National Association of Manufacturers in emphasizing the importance of the forthcoming special convention, said today.

"One of the quickest and most effective means of restoring the equilibrium of our economic nation, it seems to me, will be in Congress taking up the matter of tariff at once and disposing of it; no matter what kind of a tariff bill it gives us. Everyone will not be completely satisfied nor completely dissatisfied, no matter what kind of a tariff bill we get. But everyone certainly is completely dissatisfied, disturbed and confusd today by Congress constantly talking of tariff bills and giving us none.

"Our special convention is asking no participation in the framing of any kind of a bill. It is asking only that the basis of the tariff be upon the value of goods in the United States and not their value in the country of origin. This request represents the desire of a larger number of manufacturers. We believe in American valuation for the following cheif reasons:

"1. It will prevent undervaluation for the reason that the value will be determined by the United States Government in this country where we have jurisdiction to subpoena witnesses to get at all the facts.

"2. It will result in securing more revenue from low priced countries because the American value will be the same for any article regardless of the country from which it is imported into the United States.

"3. This plan will make it possible to treat all foreign countries alike by imposing the same duty upon the same article regardless of the country from which it comes, in accordance with out treaty obligations.

"4. This plan will make it unnecessary for this government to carry on foreign inquisition in an almost fruitless attempt to secure foreign values for the purpose of administering our tariff laws.

"5. The American Valuation Plan meets the difficulties now confronting this country in imposing ad valorem duties due to depreciation of foreign currency. Under the present law, the greater the depreciation the less the duty, so that those countries whose currency has depreciated to the greatest extnet pay the smallest amount in duty.

"6. The American Valuation Plan will be easier to administer within the intent and meaning of the law. Under this plan, we only have to have the wholesale value in one country. Under present law, we have to attempt to be familiar with the whole sale values in more than one hundred different countries from which articles may be imported into the United States.

"7. The American Valuation plan will make it possible to get an adequate protective tariff at this time against ruinous foreign competition, giving to the American workman an opportunity to earn a living.

"It is of course easier to secure the American wholesale value of any commodity than it is to secure the wholesale value in the various foreign countries as required under the existing law. Unless the American Valuation be adopted the present chaotic condition will coninue indefinitely."

GREATER ALEXANDRIA

(For The Gazette)

I've tried to emphasize the fact, in previous lines I've writ, "In tasks performed for public good each one must do his bit." I've also tried to make it plain, and patent to us all, that any structure built on sand must soon or later fall." Now I presume that none denies that what I've said is true and now I seem to hear the cry, "What would you have us do?" Ay, there's the rub," important quiz, "What is there to be done?" What, which and where and how and when? A quiz for everyone.

For a Greater Alexandria, what is the chiefest thing? If you are called to answer this what answer will you bring? There's many a sane and sober man, I'm now inclined to think would answer straight, "right off the reel," "A good supply of chink." Yes "money makes the mare go." You read that in a book. You also learned from that same source, "her owner was a crook."

Now money's not to be despised nor set aside as trash, for many a worthy scheme has failed for want of ready cash. The money for this enterprise—yes, every needed cent—is musting, moulding in the vaults, just itching to be spent. In proof of this assertion I'll cite you to some facts, and pray take heed to what I say. "I'm getting down to 'tax.'" Our actual wants are well supplied—the things we really need, as shelter, fuel, food and clothes and books we ought to read, papers, music magazines and pictures on the wall. Some toys and games are needed, too, for children large and small. Much useless truck we see and want,—"It really is so nice"—we straightway go and purchase it no matter what the price. Yes for our needs, our actual needs, we've mony and to spare, and for our wants—our fancied needs—we've still a goodly share.

And, furthermore I'm told by those who handle our finance, that money waits on every hand all ready to advance, on gilt-edge stock and fancy bonds. Not loath to take a chance, on any good securities of city, state or nation that offer adequate returns and free from all taxation. The well known facts recited here, need no reiteration, to show us how we really view the money situation.

It's not the lack of spondoolix that keens the mare from going she's really weak in back and limb and and badly needing shoeing. "It's dollars now to holy cakes," that if want a better, and a Greater Alexandria, Alexandria, we'll go to work and get'er.

FRIDAY THE 13th

With both Friday and the number thirteen regarded with apprehension by superstitious folk, the second Friday in January this year becomes a double hoodoo day.

Friday, the 13th, usually occurs twice in a year. In 1922 the double hoodoo comes in January and October; in 1923 in April and July. Feb. 13 and Aug. 13, in 1920, were double hoodoo days. The only Friday the 13th in 1921 was in May.

Among almost all peoples Friday is regarded as a day upon which it is unwise to undertake a journey, to marry or to begin any commercial venture.

Thirteen is dreaded by the superstitious of every peoples. The superstition regarding the misfortune certain to follow if thirteen sit at a meal together is supposed to have its origin in the fact that Christ and His twelve disciples were seated together at the Last Supper.

President Wilson regarded the figure thirteen as his luck number. Various incidents in the former president's life occurred on the 13th of the month.

Presidents John Quincy Adams and Franklin Pierce were inaugurated on Friday and no evil befell them, but the superstitious point out that Garfield, one of the martyr presidents, also began his term on Friday.

America was discovered on Friday; the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth occurred on Friday; the Declaration of Independence was signed on Friday, and the Battle of Bunker Hill was fought on Friday.

Shakespeare and Washington were born on Friday.

One of the most successful of marriages, that of the late Queen Victoria of England, occurred on Friday.

Black Friday is a term applied to any Friday upon which some great public disaster befell, such as Sept. 18, 1873, in the United States, and May 11, 1866, in England, when financial panics occurred.

Lynchburg—T. Ward Cash, of Amherst County, who is defendant to an indictment charging him with violating the Volstead act and who has sued Federal revenue agents for $10,000 damages sustained in a raid on his premises, has filed a petition in the Federal District Court here demanding the return of five or six gallons of liquor taken from him by the revenue agents. All three cases come before the Federal Court here this week.

Newport News—Tom Stearns, of Newport News, who while hunting with a party of friends at his place on the Chickahominy, December 14, shot down a bird, branded by the United States Biological Survey with the number 4747 inscribed in a metal plate, has received from the biological survey a report on hi sinquiry as to where the duck was turned loose.

The Bureau of Bioligical Survey in a letter to Mr. Stearns, states that the duck was turned loose on September 19, 1921 by H. S. Olsen, at Lake Seugog, near Port Perry, Ontario.

Fourth Victory For A. H. S.

Pettit Stars as A. H. S. Downs Stewards by Score of 37 to 14 For The Fourth Straight This Season

Alexandria's High School Basketeers last night put the kibosh on the team of Stewards Business College by the score of 37 to 14 for the fourth straight win of the season. The Steward boys were completely outclassed although they kept the High School boys jumping. Pettit, the High School's center was the best on the floor, scoring twenty of the thirty-seven points. The passing of both teams was well done but the local guards executed their work faithfully and well as the score indicates.

Alexandria has the best team that has ever been turned out from the High School and the students at present are pleasantly contemplating a season which may go through without a defeat for their team.

Tomorrow night they will play the team of Manassas High School in the Armory Hall, and 'tis said that this will be a fine game as the Manassas boys have something new in the way of scrappy players.

Summary of last nights game:

WARNING TO MILK USERS

Health Department Calls Attention to Laws Now In Force

Dairymen and Dealers Are Required to Mark Bottles With Name of Producer

I desire to call public attention to a section of the law regulating the sale of milk and cream, which reads as follows:—

"It shall be unlawful for any dairy man, or wholesale or retail dealer in milk or cream to bring into the city of Alexandria for sale or exchange, or to sell or offer for sale or exchange, or have in his or her possession any bottled milk or cream intended to be offered for sale or exchange within the city limits, unless the caps of such bottles are plainly marked with the names of the dairy or proprietor thereof, where such milk or cream was produced and bottled"

This law is for the protection of the honest dairyman as well as the consumer, against unauthorized persons unknown to the health department, who may attempt to sell milk of doubtful or dangerous quality. If any milkman or storekeeper offers you a bottle of milk with the cap unmarked with the names of the producer or dairy as required by the above law, refuse to accept it and report his name at once to the health department. This department will in no case guarantee any unstamped bottle of milk to be either of standard quality or safe to drink. The health department is not particularly interested in the price charged by a dealer for his milk, but it is most distinctly interested in the quality and safety of such milk for human consumption. The consumer is the most deeply interested person in the protection of our milk supply, and should therefore assist this department in every way possible. If in doubt about any dealers milk, call up the health department.

Happy Parents Pour Out Their Thanks To Tanlac

That Tanlac is a wonderful medicine for delicate children is conclusively proven by the remarkable results accomplished in the cases of the three children shown in this picture.

Little Blanche Blair, of Providence, R. I., age 13, gained 10 pounds; Regina McCabe, at right, aged 9, of Scranton, Pa., gained 15 pounds; little Richard Leary, Jr., of Philadelphia, who was very delicate, is now in fine robust health. The statements made by their parents are as follows:

Mr. A. M. Blair, residing at 20 Atwood street, Providence, R. I., said: "We are just so happy over the change Tanlac has made in our little girl that we can't do or say enough to show our appreciation. She had lost nearly 20 pounds in weight and looked so frail and weak that her mother and I were both almost worried sick over her condition. Since taking Tanlac, she has already gained 10 pounds, her color is better than it ever has been and she looks and acts like a different girl."

Mrs. Catherine McCabe, 414 Dickens Ave., Scranton, Pa., said: "The 'flu' left my little Regina in such a bad condition that I have no idea she would be with me now if it hadn't been for Tanlac. It is a mystery to me how she lived on the little she was eating and was so lifeless she never even cared to play with the dolls and toys she got at Christmas. Since taking Tanlac she is as hardy and well as any child could be and has gained 15 pounds in weight. I will always praise Tanlac for restoring our little girl's health."

Richard Leary, 2342 Palethorpe St., Philadelphia, said: "There is no doubt in my mind but that Tanlac saved my little boy's life. For two years I wouldn't have been a bit surprised to have seen him drop off at any time. He had stomach trouble and many a time the gas pressed up into his chest until his heart palpitated so I thought sure he couldn't breathe but a few more gasps. But Tanlac gave him back to us strong and well and we will praise it to our dying day."

NOTE—Tanlac Vegetable Pills are an essential and vitally important part of the Tanlac treatment. You cannot hope to get the most satisfactory results from Tanlac without first establishing a free and regular movement of the bowels. Tanlac Vegetable Pills are absolutely free from calomel and are sold on a positive guarantee to give satisfaction.

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria by Edgar Warfield, Jr., and leading druggists everywhere.

Old Dominions Win Again

In a fast and exciting game last night the Boat Club team came from behind and defeated the Manhattan A. C. by the score of 36 to 22. The locals got off to a bad start and were trailing at the end of the first half, the score being 13 to 12 in favor of the visitors. The home team opened up the second half with a burst of speed which dazzled their opponents and aided by clever passing they soon piled up enough points to win. Beeton, Crilly and Davis put up a great offensive exhibition, while the defensive work of Roberts and Shuman played a great part in the downfall of the visitors Line up and summary:

O. D. B. C.	Position	Manhattan
Beeton	Forward	Hutchison
Crilly	Forward	Wingfield
Davis	Center	Swan
Shuman	Guard	Guiffreda
Roberts	Guard	Wood

Goals from floor: Beeton 6; Crilly 7; Wingfield 4; Swan 2 Goals from foul, Davis 2; Roberts 1; Hutchinson 1; Beeton 4, Hutchinson 5, Wingfield 3. Referee, Entwisle.

Rheumatism at 60

S. S. S. Thoroughly Rids the Body of Rheumatism Impurities.

Somebody's mother is suffering tonight! The scourge of rheumatism has wrecked her body; limping and suffering, bent forward, she sees but the common ground, but her aged heart still belongs to the stars! Does anybody care? S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-purifiers known, and it helps build more blood cells. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. It never disarranges the stomach. It is, in fact, a splendid tonic, a blood maker, a blood enricher. It banishes rheumatism from joints, muscles and the entire body. It builds firm flesh. It is what somebody's mother needs tonight! Mother, if you can not go out to get a bottle of S. S. S. yourself, surely somebody in your family will. Somebody, get a bottle of S. S. S. now! Let somebody's mother begin to feel joyful again tonight. Maybe, maybe it's your mother! S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

How glorious you will feel, mother, when your rheumatism is all gone. Let S. S. S. do it. It will build you up, too!

GLOBE EGG MASH
THE GREAT EGG MAKER

Every poultry raiser is interested in the items mentioned above. With GLOBE EGG MASH before your hens, in hoppers, all the time, and GLOBE SCRATCH fed in the litter to promote exercise, you need have no fear of results.

This GLOBE EGG MASH is the result of much experimenting. It is composed of a variety of the most digestible proteins selected for their egg-making qualities, and to keep the hen in good condition. It is different from any other mash on the market—built for a purpose and put on the market only after being thoroughly tried out on our experimental farm. It is giving the best of results with some of the best known breeders in the country.

Mr. Chas. V. Keeler, well known breeder of White Wqandottes at Winamac, Ind., writes: "Am mailing you a picture of my 288-egg hen that was fed entirely on GLOBE FEEDS. Will send others as soon as can get photos made. My big string of winners at the recent National Poultry Show, Chicago, were conditioned on GLOBE FEEDS, which is pretty good proof that GLOBE will condition birds as well as make eggs."

What Mr. Keeler did you can do. A trial will convince you. Try a few bags and let the hen be the judge.

TO RELIEVE UNEMPLOYMENT

Bureau of Public Roads Will Approve Plans to Help the Jobless

To relieve the unemployment situation, the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, is prepared to do everything possible to expedite Federal aid building projects that can provide work or that will shorten the winter season of inactivity in road building in the northern States. Projects will be approved without delay for the building of roads which the States and the district engineers of the department agree will come within the Federal aid program.

There is available at the present time an unexpended balance from the old Federal aid appropriation of $53,702,000 in Federal aid funds yet to be apportioned among the States. In addition under the law passed November 9 last, the sum of $24,375 became available at once and there also became available January 1, $48,750,000 a total of $126,827,000.

In approving projects under the recent law the department will keep uppermost in mind the provision of the 1921 which states that "the Secretary of Agriculture shall give preference to such projects as will expedite the completion of an adequate and connected system of highways, interstate in character." At the same time the importance of local traffic will not be minimized. To care for that class of traffic will always be in general, the first objective of highway improvement. Wherever possible a choice of highways will be made which, regardless of the order of improvement, will eventually join into a well conceived network crossing both county and State boundaries. Thus, while the immediate needs of a State or district may determine priority of construction, each new link will bring nearer the completion of the system as a whole.

Each district engineer of the department is fully informed as to the procedure for interim projects which is so simplified that if important projects are chosen in good faith there will be no delay in obtaining approval for them.

Winter plans for the coming road building season are under preliminary consideration. In the western States the major lines of highways will be fixed largely by topograph. In many instances long routes will be determined by single strategic points such as a mountain pass. Because of this necessity the department is desirous of having the States affected reach agreements as to their plans which will be based on the future service that is to be rendered, not only to the local but also to the interstate and national traffic.

The greatest traffic problems lie in the Eastern States, some of which already have a large mileage of improved roads. It will be a comparatively short time, because of new construction and better maintenance, until the transcontinental tourist will be provided with roads that are entirely serviceable throughout the seasons of the year when other conditions favor such traffic.

The really serious traffic problems lie around and between large centers of population. Rapid multiplication in the numbers of automobiles and motor trucks—the number in 1921 being 18 times what it was in 1910—have accentuated the seriousness of the problem. For roads built previous to the advent of the dense motor traffic, alignments, widths, and types were planned for use of the slower, horse drawn vehicles. Traffic lins are from town to town and generally follow through the most congested parts of population centers. Some of the principles which confront the department and the States for consideration in planning a nation wide and connected system of highways include the following:

The development of parallel lines to divide heavy traffic through thickly populated districts.

The development of direct, short-mileage routes, although on these routes there may be at this time a less amount of improved roads than on routes followed at present.

The building of inner or outer belt lines around congested centers. The reconstruction of weak sections to accommodate heavy truck traffic.

The widening of main routes near the largest cities or between cities where the distance is short enough to carry uniform traffic.

Proper connections with the routes of adjoining States.

To insure maintenance of the roads when built, the strongest possible requirements have been written into the law. "The term maintenance," the law states, "means the constant making of needed repairs to preserve a smooth surfaced highway."

The department hopes that it will not be required to take over a single mile of highway for maintenance. That is the function of the State, once the road is built with the aid of Federal funds. But the responsibility for maintenance is imposed by the law upon the department and this provision of the law will be enforced to the letter.

The department will not consider that the States are living up to the maintenance requirements of the act until they establish a system of patrol of some form that places direct and continuous responsibility upon some one for the condition of each mile or road. The word "patrol" is not used in the technical sense to distinguish it from the so-called "gang" system; but rather to designate the proper combination of patrol and gang systems to meet the particular requirements of each State.
